

6516206107.txt

Especially when traveling out of state, having weather info at your fingertips is a must. There are many situations when over-the-air radio is just not available. At home I listen to regular market radio, but while traveling I rely on satellite. Tell the market stations to get their acts together. If they can't compete with satellite, then let them sink...